

TISI is introducing a new product line!

The Unico System®

Small-Duct Central Heating & Air Conditioning

The Unico System has a number of features and benefits that set it apart from all other central heating and air conditioning solutions. As the world's leading air management system, The Unico System provides Superior Indoor Comfort in all applications.

Air Handlers

Electric Furnaces

Duct Tubing

Plenum

Outlets

Fits in Any Space

No matter when your home or building was built, or what its physical configuration, installing The Unico System is always a possibility - without compromising design or architectural integrity.

Little or No Remodeling

The Unico System fits where other conventional cooling and heating systems can't - with little or no remodeling required! The modular air handlers and coils can be easily installed into attics, ceilings, crawlspaces, and closets.

Removes 30% more Relative Humidity

The Unico System provides greater humidity removal with the superior and efficient design of our cooling coils, creating a perfectly comfortable environment.

Quiet Performance

The Unico System outperforms conventional heating and cooling systems by utilizing a patented high velocity stream of air. This air is delivered quietly and seamlessly into the room using our 2" outlets or the 8" x ¾" slotted diffuser.

Draft-Free, Even Temperatures

The Unico System delivers superior comfort over traditional HVAC systems by eliminating drafts and removing 30% more relative humidity.

Matches Any Décor

The Unico System offers you a huge selection in outlet choices. Our outlets come round or slotted, and are designed to fit any decor or home architecture without compromise.